

Bill joined the Chesapeake Bay Foundation in May of 2015 and provides strategic vision and direction for the CBF Pennsylvania office in agricultural policy and watershed restoration initiatives. As Senior Ag Program Manager, Bill collaborates with a diverse set of stakeholders including agricultural business leaders, county conservation districts, state and federal agriculture and environmental protection agency staff in order to expand and diversify restoration activities and agricultural policies so that pollution reductions from agriculture can be accelerated. Bill has a background in farming, teaching agriculture, school leadership, and begins his second year with PA CBF promoting agricultural conservation practice implementation.
