AGENDA

1:30 PM Welcome, Meeting Overview and Introductions, Chair Mark Bennett (USGS)

- Goals of meeting
  - Confirm primary CRWG actions for 2021-2022 and performance targets for certain actions.
  - Confirm climate change indicators to focus development on during the next 2 years.

1:35 PM Review Primary Workgroup Actions and Identify Performance Targets, Julie Reichert-Nguyen (NOAA) & Mark Bennett (USGS)

The Climate Resiliency Workgroup members will confirm the primary actions for the next 2 years and help identify more specific performance targets for actions missing these.

- Are there any secondary actions (not highlighted in blue) that the workgroup members feel strongly should also be considered a primary action during the next 2 years?
- What are the performance targets that the workgroup members could support related to the following actions:
  - Role in assisting with design plans for adaptation projects
  - Role in supporting technical assistance around adaptation
  - Role in local engagement activities

Materials: Revised actions summary table for workgroup to review.

Requested Workgroup Action: Identify performance targets and which targets workgroup members can assist with.

2:40 PM      Review and confirm which climate indicators the workgroup can support based on current resources and cross-workgroup utility, Julie Reichert-Nguyen (NOAA)

The Climate Resiliency Workgroup will confirm which indicators the workgroup can support based on current resources that have cross-workgroup utility for assessing resilience progress related to Watershed Agreement outcomes.

Materials: Status of climate change indicators presentation.

Requested Workgroup Action: Agree on indicators to suggest to the Management Board that the workgroup can support.

3:20 PM      Wrap Up, Julie Reichert-Nguyen & Mark Bennett

Julie and Mark will review action items identified during the meeting and discuss next steps.

3:30 PM      Adjourn

Next Meeting: Monday, March 15, 2021, 1:30 - 3:30 PM
