

Megan Grose is an Environmental Resources Analyst with the NPDES section of the Division of Water and Waste Management, West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection. She has been with WVDEP for over ten years and has B.S. in Biology and a M.S. in Environmental Science. Megan specializes in Storm Water permitting and has a background in landscape ecology and GIS.