

Stephanie Martins is the assistant manager of the Geospatial and Data Analysis unit within the Maryland Department of Planning (Planning). She has been a planner/GIS analyst with the department since 1999. She has been involved in land use mapping, growth modeling, and growth trend analysis in her various roles at Planning. Stephanie holds a Master's Degree in Geography and Planning from the University of Akron.