HOW AM I CONNECTED TO THE CHESAPEAKE BAY?

Chesapeake Bay AWARENESS WEEK

HOW AM I CONNECTED TO THE CHESAPEAKE BAY?

- The Chesapeake Bay watershed includes 206 counties covering parts of six states and D.C. Each local community plays a part in the health of local rivers and the Bay.
- Hundreds of thousands of creeks, streams and rivers thread through the Chesapeake Bay region. These tributaries send fresh water to the Bay, offer vital habitat and provide people with opportunities to fish, boat and swim.

THE POTOMAC REGION

- The Potomac River flows for 383 miles, from Fairfax Stone in West Virginia to the Chesapeake Bay at Point Lookout, Maryland.
- The Potomac's major tributaries include the Anacostia, Antietam, C&O Canal, Conococheague, Monocacy, North Branch, South Branch, Occoquan, Savage, Seneca and Shenandoah.

THE RAPPAHANNOCK REGION

- At 195 miles, the Rappahannock is Virginia's longest free-flowing river.
- The Rappahannock River's major tributaries are the Rapidan River and the Hazel River.
- As the Rappahannock River meanders through Virginia, the landscapes of the watershed shift from mountains to farms to developed cities.

THE YORK REGION

- The York watershed begins in the Blue Ridge Mountains with two main tributaries, the Mataponi and Pamunkey Rivers. It flows into the Bay near Gloucester Point, Virginia.
- The Lower York River is one of the ten tributaries in the Chesapeake watershed selected for oyster restoration. Oysters support a key commercial fishery and filter up to 50 gallons of water each day.

THE SUSQUEHANNA REGION

- The Susquehanna River flows from Cooperstown, N.Y., through Pennsylvania to Havre de Grace, Md., and the Bay—a 444 mile journey.
- The Susquehanna River is the Chesapeake Bay's largest tributary, providing 50 percent of the fresh water that flows into the Bay.
- The Susquehanna River sends about 19 million gallons of water per minute into the Chesapeake Bay.

THE PATUXENT REGION

- The Patuxent is the largest river that lies entirely in Maryland.
- The Patuxent River is home to more than 100 species of fish.

THE EASTERN SHORE REGION

- The Eastern Shore region is home to the Chester, Elk, Sassafas, Choptank, Miles, Wye, Nanticoke, Marshyhope and Pocomoke rivers.
- The Nanticoke River starts in Delaware and runs for 64 miles before reaching the Chesapeake Bay.

THE WESTERN SHORE REGION

- The Chesapeake Bay's western shore region includes the Patapsco River, Back River, Severn River, South River, Magalloway River and the Baltimore Harbor, as well as major cities like Baltimore and Annapolis.
- The Patapsco River runs for 39 miles through Baltimore and into the Chesapeake Bay.

THE JAMES REGION

- The James River's major tributaries include the Appomattox, Chickahominy, Cowpasture, Elizabeth, Hardware, Jackson, Meary, Rivanna and Tye rivers.
- In 2019, more than 300 breeding pairs of eagles were found along the James River. This was once the recovery goal for the entire watershed!
