

List of Nominees (10/19/2017)

Expert Panel Establishment Group

Livestock and Poultry Mortality Management Practices

Chris Brosch (nominated by self)

Nutrient Management Program Administrator

Delaware Department of Agriculture

Education: Agricultural Science, Natural Resources Science

Certifications and Licenses: Certified Nutrient Management Planner

Experience Snapshot: Oversight of daily operations of the DE Nutrient Management (NM) Program; general permits for concentrated animal feeding operations; management of manure relocation and nutrient management planning; coordination the DE NM Commission of government appointees in operations; chair Nutrient Management Expert Panel under the Agriculture Working group for the Chesapeake Bay Program, technical reviewer for manure management expert panels; experience with Scenario Builder and CAST

Shelly Dehoff (nominated by F. Schneider)

PA Agricultural Ombudsman

PA Agricultural Ombudsman Program

Education: Environmental Resource Management

Certifications and Licenses: Nutrient Management Specialist

Experience Snapshot: Agricultural Ombudsman for eastern Pennsylvania: public relations, education and conflict management related to agriculture; pro-active efforts to minimize conflicts between agriculture and non-farm neighbors; contracted with PA DEP since 2010 to create publications explaining PA's agricultural and environmental regulations for farmers and manure haulers/brokers; educates on proper mortality disposal of livestock and poultry; partnered with Penn State Extension to create educational publications and offer technical training on the legal disposal methods in PA; resource conservation specialist for the York County Conservation District.

Gary Felton (nominated by M. Dubin)

Associate Professor, Department of Environmental Science and Technology

University of Maryland

Education: Agricultural Engineering

Memberships: American Society of Agricultural and Biological Engineers, Assoc. of Ground Water Scientists and Engineers

Experience Snapshot: Agricultural Biosolids Management/Utilization; poultry litter management/utilization; alternative uses for biosolids; teaches Agricultural Nutrient Management environmental stewardship component of basic nutrient management course; experiments dealing with amendments to poultry litter and poultry litter stockpiles; specializes in the fate and transport of nutrients and on-farm applications of technology. In particular, his work has focused on poultry litter application, co-composting poultry litter and other wastes, and nutrient fate and transport from poultry litter stockpiles.

George “Bud” Malone (nominated by V. Clark)

Malone Poultry Consulting

Education: Agriculture and Animal Science

Memberships: Poultry Science Association

Experience Snapshot: University of Delaware: 22 years as associate scientist, 12 years as extension poultry specialist, litter and mortality management, and BMPs to address broiler waste and air quality issues; consulting business focused on addressing air, litter and waste issues in the poultry industry; DE’s waste management plan; waste management (composting both routine and catastrophic mortality); Delmarva’s poultry industry team leader for disposal of avian influenza-infected flocks using in-house composting; leadership on a national training program on options and procedures for depopulating and disposing of poultry flocks with avian influenza; successful adoption of foam depopulation followed by in-house composting; in-house composting of poultry litter; recent major consulting activities: monitoring performance, behavior and air quality on an innovative flooring system for broiler houses, calculations of the cost effectiveness of mortality freezers as a BMP, technical support and poultry industry liaison for a Delmarva litter anaerobic digestion/nutrient recovery plant(s); technical support to defend three nuisance-related lawsuits.

John Moyle (nominated by M. Dubin)

Poultry Extension Specialist

University of Maryland Extension

Education: Animal and Poultry Science

Certifications and Licenses: Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) training, Maryland Department of Agriculture Poultry/Rabbit processing, Private Applicator Pesticide License

Experience Snapshot: Member of “Small and Backyard Flocks” working group, as well as an expert for “Ask an Expert”; USDA Research Associate, Poultry Production Safety and Research Unit; commercial broiler feeder farm owner/operator.

Frank Schneider (self-nominated)

Director, Nutrient & Odor Management Programs

PA State Conservation Commission

Education: Dairy and Animal Science

Experience Snapshot: provides technical, administrative and programmatic guidance to program participants, conservation district staff and boards, the press, agricultural industry representatives and the general public; oversees program policy and regulation development and future program direction; assists with the legal issues related to the program and activities involving the Environmental Hearing Board; worked for the Pennsylvanian Department of Environmental Protection as a water program specialist and for the Dauphin County Conservation District.

