

Bio: John Ellingsworth

In the mid-1960s, John Ellingsworth III, began managing many aspects of Forest View Nursery in Clayton, DE, successfully started and operated by his father, Jack, beginning in 1951.

John continued to grow the nursery over the years - increasing acreage to over 300 acres, supplying major projects such as Beaver Stadium at Penn State and the Statue of Liberty Park, becoming a leading regional supplier of native plants (wetlands & upland), broadly diversifying plant materials, installing widespread irrigation, and successfully entering the container plants market.

Looking forward, Forest View has significant plans to modernize and expand the facilities at the nursery, further diversify plant offerings, and offer the value-add service of consultation from true industry experts.
